It was time for a party in the garage, and Suzy Scissors, who was in the cupboard on the wall decided she was going to organise it. 'What shall I do first?' Suzy thought to herself. 'I know', she thought, 'I shall decorate the garage with colourful stars'. But first, Suzy Scissors needed to find some paper card, and needed help from Rob Ruler, the measuring ruler.

Suzy Scissors opened the cupboard door. While standing on the edge of the cupboard, she shouted to the rest of the tools, 'WE'RE GOING TO HAVE A PARTY'. All the tools looked up at Suzy with surprise. Suzy needed to go in search of paper card for drawing on. She also needed to find Rob Ruler to help her draw the stars. She had to find paint for colouring the stars, glue and glitter to make the stars shine brightly. So Suzy Scissors jumped down onto the workbench, and went to look for Rob Ruler, because she knew he was going to be very helpful to her.

The last time she saw Rob Ruler, he was in the cabinet on the workbench, so she made her way over to the cabinet. She was about to open one of the drawers when it opened by itself, and out popped Rob Ruler. This startled Suzy Scissors who nearly fell over backwards. 'Caught you!' exclaimed Rob, 'I heard you shouting, and knew you were coming to get me'. 'You really scared me', said Suzy, 'I didn't expect that'. 'I need your help', added Suzy, 'we need to find paper card, paint, glue and glitter'.

'Well', said Rob, 'I believe all those items are in the cupboard, from which you jumped'. 'Really!' exclaimed Suzy, 'what a waste of time. Now I have to go back up there to get them'. 'I will give you a hand', said Rob, 'let's go'. So both Suzy Scissors and Rob Ruler made their way back up to the cupboard to get the other items. It was not long before they found all the items they needed, and jumped back down to the workbench.
